

Paul D. Camp Community College

Annual Crime Statistics Report 2017

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Statistics Act require all colleges and universities that participate in student aid programs to report crimes on and near campus. The statistics and campus security policies contained in this report satisfies that reporting requirement.

10/1/2018

Approvals

This annual crime report, commonly referred to as the Clery Report was prepared by Paul D. Camp Community College to inform students, staff, faculty and the community at large of extant security policies, procedures and responsible agents. The report also provides crime statistics for all college campuses and center. This plan has been distributed within Paul D. Camp Community College to students, faculty, staff and with external agencies and has been made available to the public via <https://www.pdc.edu/about/safety-security/>.

Approved:
Daniel W. Lufkin, President

Date: 10-8-18

Applicability and Scope

The policies and procedures described in this report apply to Paul D. Camp Community College faculty and staff in all departments and all locations where college functions are conducted. This report has been distributed electronically to all staff in all departments, both adjunct and permanent faculty, current and potential students and the general public for their information. The report has also been shared with local, (cities of Franklin, Suffolk and Town of Smithfield) police and the Department of Education.

1. General. Paul D. Camp Community College is a two-year non-residential institution of higher learning committed to providing a safe and secure environment for all faculty, staff, students and visitors of the college. The college has two campuses, the main campus and Regional Workforce Development Center located at 100 North College Drive, Franklin, VA 23851, the second, Hobbs Campus at 271 Kenyon Rd, Suffolk VA 23434 and the PDCCC Center at 253 James Street, Smithfield, VA 23430. Safety and security procedures summarized in this report are common to all college locations.
2. Clery Report. The college publishes its annual crime statistics reports on 1 October each year. A hard copy of the report may be obtained from either the Operations Manager or the college Safety and Security officer located on the main campus in Franklin, VA. The report is also available on the college website at <https://www.pdc.edu/about/safety-security/>.
3. Campus Security Force. The Campus Security Forces are not sworn law enforcement officers and do not have arrest authorities beyond those of a private citizen. The local police forces and Virginia State Police provide emergency services. The force is small and does not provide emergency fire or medical services, these services, like police response, are provided through local fire and emergency medical services by dialing 9-911 from a college telephone or 911 from a personal device. The Campus Security Force will assist with non-life threatening and safety situations and enforce college policies and rules. Some of the other services provided by the security force are: building access, assisting physically challenged individuals, removing illegally parked vehicles and personal escort for students, faculty and staff during the hours of darkness. Escort should be coordinated in advance with Campus Security Force. Escorts can only be provided for movement between campus facilities, buildings and parking lots.
4. Campus Security Authorities. Campus Security Authority is a Clery specific term that encompasses four groups of people and organizations within a college, definition in CFR 668.46(a).
 - a. A campus police department or a campus security department of an institution. If your institution has a campus police or security department, those individuals are campus security authorities. A security department can be as small as one person.
 - b. Any individual or individuals who have responsibility for campus security but who do not constitute a campus police department or a campus security department (e.g., an individual who is responsible for monitoring the entrance into institutional property). Include individuals who provide security at a campus parking kiosk, monitor access into a campus facility, and act as event security or escort students around campus after dark.
 - c. Any individual or organization specified in an institution's statement of campus security policy as an individual or organization to which students and employees should report criminal offenses. . If you direct the campus community to report criminal incidents to anyone or any organization in addition to police or security-related personnel, that individual or organization is a campus security authority.

- d. An official of an institution who has significant responsibility for student and campus activities, including, but not limited to, student housing, student discipline and campus judicial proceedings. An official is defined as any person who has the authority and the duty to take action or respond to particular issues on behalf of the institution.

A campus security authority is not responsible for determining authoritatively whether a crime took place—that is the function of law enforcement personnel. A campus security authority should not try to apprehend the alleged perpetrator of the crime. That too is the responsibility of law enforcement. It's also not a CSA's responsibility to try and convince a victim to contact law enforcement if the victim chooses not to do so. At PDCCC the College Safety and Security Officer is the coordinating authority for campus security authorities (CSA). The CSA at PDCCC are:

Operations Manager
Director Regional Workforce Center
All members of the College Security Force
Campus Deans
Dean of Nursing
Coordinator Human Resources

5. Crime Reporting. The college community and visitors are encouraged to immediately report emergencies, criminal acts and/or suspicious activities to the Operations Manager and Technical Services, any Campus Security Authority or the college Safety and Security Officer, victims and witnesses are encouraged to use the college's "Silent Witness" procedures and systems to report crime or suspicious behaviors. Information regarding crime and threats to persons/property will remain confidential and anonymous; Campus Security will not attempt to contact or locate you at any time. However, disclosing your name and working directly with police and college personnel will facilitate efforts to resolve the reported issue. Reports involving fire and safety hazards do require contact information so that corrective actions may be taken in a timely manner. Incident report forms may be found at <https://www.pdc.edu/about/safety-security/silent-witness-report/>. Reports may also be made in person to the College Safety and Security Officer, room 130D Franklin Main Campus Building or by telephone at 757-569-6721.
6. Campus Crime Alerts. Situations, incidents and persons that pose a threat to the college community will quickly be brought to the attention of the campus community through physical posting of Safety and Security Alert Bulletins on the College Web page, <https://www.pdc.edu>, the informational AxisTVs located around campuses. You also will receive timely emergency and crime alerts via PDCCC Alert. You may sign up or this essential service at <https://www.pdc.edu/pdccc-alert/> at no cost. Direct email notification will augment these systems and where appropriate a verbal announcement of the event will be made using the college public address system.

7. Crime Statistics Log. This document is maintained in compliance with Code of Virginia, 1950 as amended §23-232.2 and Federal Law and contains information about all crimes against persons or property which are reported to the Paul D. Camp Community College. However, information that may jeopardize an ongoing criminal investigation or the safety of an individual, or cause a suspect to flee to evade detection or result in the destruction of evidence, such information will be withheld from this report until the above referenced issues are no longer likely to occur from the release of this information. This log covers 60 days of historical data and is maintained by the College Safety and Security Officer. The crime log is a public document and copies may be requested from the Campus Security Force during normal business hours and will be provided within 2 working days of the request. An electronic copy of the report may also be found at <https://www.pdc.edu/about/safety-security/>.
8. Sexual Assault/Sex offense. Sexual assault is a crime punishable by both civil and criminal legal action. The college strongly encourages victims and witnesses to report and prosecute alleged perpetrators to the fullest extent of the law. Reporting incidents of sexual misconduct of any type by college employees, full or part time is mandatory. There are several venues for assistance if a person is a victim of sexual assault/offense.

Victims of sexual assault tend to feel a variety of conflicting emotions, rage, fear, depression, relief to have survived, numbness and exhaustion-to name just a few. Victims must remember they did not cause the assault and should not blame themselves. Friends or confidants of victims should encourage victims to seek help.

Paul D. Camp Community College has access to trained professional counseling staff available to assist victims. The college also has a certified Sexual Assault Response Team to assist victims and witnesses. The Commonwealth's Attorneys Office of the cities of Franklin, Suffolk and Isle of Wight County victim/witness assistance program is also available to assist victims in any way possible. Referral information is available at all times and the Campus Security Force can assist you in obtaining the necessary information for counseling, medical care or financial assistance. Responsiveness to the victim is a top priority of the college and the Campus Security Force.

If you are a victim of sexual assault:

Contact the police immediately.

You will be transported to the hospital to be examined.

If possible, do not change your clothes, shower, eat or drink between the time of the attack and the trip to the hospital. Bring a change of clothes or have a friend or family member bring them for you, as the clothes worn during the attack are used for evidence. The rape examination has a two-fold purpose: to ensure the well-being of the victim and to preserve evidence for use in prosecution of the perpetrator. Counselors will be on hand to help you understand the process and provide support.

Even if you do not choose to prosecute, it is important that you have a physical examination after the attack. Besides bruises or other physical injuries, you may have been exposed to sexually transmitted diseases that require treatment. An HIV/AIDS test may also help ease your mind although additional testing six months after the assault may be necessary to completely eliminate the threat of AIDS/HIV.

The college most strongly recommends counseling, either private or through excellent public resources, and can put you in touch with these resources. All of these services are confidential. Consider your judicial options. Although there are statutes of limitations on criminal cases, they are often longer than you think. You also have the option of civil charges or campus disciplinary actions.

If the assault and the aftermath are interfering with your ability to complete your academic work, talk with the VP of Academic and Student Development about academic relief.

Remember it is never too late to deal with a sexual assault and the college will assist you in every way possible.

- a. Medical Assistance. As mentioned in the preceding paragraphs, victims of very recent assaults should go to the hospital for a physical exam and the collection of evidence. All victims, past or present, should be seen by a qualified physician to check for sexually transmitted diseases, physical trauma and possible pregnancy. Female victims may prefer to see a female physician and should request one if that will increase their level of comfort, though in the emergency room that may not always be possible. Victims may also want to contact their private doctor and schedule a follow-up examination.
- b. Counseling Assistance. Counseling is often crucial to the recovery process. Victims are encouraged to seek the assistance of qualified professionals, even if many years have elapsed since the assault. The choice whether or not to seek counseling is that of the victim.
- c. Legal and Judicial Options. Sexual assault victims have three judicial options from which to choose: filing criminal charges, filing college disciplinary charges for sexual misconduct or filing a civil suit for monetary damages. Victims are not limited to a single option, but can choose a combination, including filing all three types of charges. Below is a summary of each type of judicial action.
- d. Criminal. The filing of criminal charges means going to the police. If the assault happened on campus, it falls under the jurisdiction of the Virginia State Police. If it happened off-campus, it falls under the city police jurisdiction where the assault took place. The Paul D. Camp Community College Sexual Assault Response Team will assist individuals with filing charges.
- e. Many victims believe that if they do not file criminal charges immediately, they lose that option. There are statutes of limitations for filing criminal charges, but they are typically several years in duration. Naturally it is better to go to the police as soon as possible after an assault in order to preserve as much evidence as possible. The police will arrange for the victim to be seen at the hospital, for medical care and the collection of evidence. However, even if some time has passed, the police still encourage victims to come forward.

- f. Criminal charges are prosecuted by the Commonwealth of Virginia, not the individual. A commonwealth's attorney will argue the case at no cost to the victim. The victim serves as the primary witness to the crime, and his or her testimony is crucial to the case. Typically, the identity of the victim is protected by the press, although the identity of the accused perpetrator is not.
 - g. Civil Court. Sexual assault victims have the right to sue the perpetrator or other involved parties for monetary damages. This type of prosecution, which may be pursued alone or in conjunction with criminal and/or campus disciplinary charges, requires an attorney. The burden of proof is a preponderance of the evidence. Victims considering this type of prosecution are advised to consult a legal advisor or a private attorney.
 - h. College. College disciplinary charges can only be filed if the alleged offender is a Paul D. Camp Community College student or employee. The referral agent is typically a member of the college community as well. The campus disciplinary system examines violations of college policy. College Disciplinary Hearings do not replace or substitute for criminal prosecutions, and students who choose campus hearings are also encouraged to seek redress through the criminal and civil court systems. So long as the accused student is enrolled in school, there is no statute of limitations on filing disciplinary charges. See the student code of conduct for additional information. As with civil proceedings, the burden of proof is preponderance of evidence.
- 10. Campus SaVE Act. It is the policy of the college to provide an environment that is free from harassment and discrimination based on any status protected by law. This policy supplements the following general policy statements set forth by the CCCS. This institution promotes and maintains education opportunities without regard to race, color, sex, ethnicity, religion, gender, age (except when age is a bona fide occupation qualification). Disability, national origin or other non-merit factors. This policy also addresses the requirement sun the Violence against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013, (also known as the Campus SaVE Act, or Title IX policy. While discussion in the foregoing paragraph addresses the more serious acts of sexual misconduct these crimes are also included in the Campus SaVE Act as are a range of behaviors used to obtain sexual gratification against another's will as well as other verbal, non-verbal physical conduct of a sexual nature. Sexual misconduct includes sexual harassment, sexual assault, sexual exploitation and sexual violence. Details of the Paul D. Camp Community College Policy on Sexual or Domestic Violence, dating violence and stalking can be found on the safety and security web page at <https://www.pdc.edu/about/safety-security/>.

- a. The college has designated the Dean of Student Services as the Title IX coordinator who will address all complaints made under violations of Title IX policy. The Title IX coordinator can be reached directly at 757-569-6720. The Title IX coordinator is responsible for student, faculty and staff training concerning sexual misconduct and for the overall coordination of the college's Title IX effort. The coordinator shall conduct annual college climate surveys as a means of evaluating the effectiveness of training. He is also responsible for liaison with local and state police officials, commonwealth prosecutors and college legal representatives. The deputies listed in the following paragraphs will assist in the development of training, administration of surveys and in the absence of the coordinator act in his stead in the event an incident occurs in his absence. This is to ensure that OCR timelines are met.
- b. There are deputy coordinators available for consultation.
- c. Victims may select a confidential advisor from the staff although the college encourages the selection come from among the professional counseling staff.
- d. A listing of Victim Services, resources and points of contact is found at <https://www.pdc.edu/wp-content/uploads/2013/11/Community-Resources-Toolkit.pdf>.

The college encourages anyone who believes themselves to be a victim of sexual misconduct in any form to contact a title IX coordinator/deputy. A victim may also submit a report using the Sexual Misconduct Report found at <https://www.pdc.edu/about/safety-security/>. It is the responsibility of the college to ensure that your academic career is free from the distraction of ill-advised and unsolicited sexual advances. The college may enact interim measures such as implementing "no contact orders" class schedule changes to ensure that an alleged victim remains free from intimidation or coercion during the investigate portion of the process. The college will also enter into a Program Participation Agreement with victims of sexual misconduct guaranteeing that the victim of any crime of violence or any non-forcible sex offense is informed of the results of college disciplinary or legal actions.

11. Sex Offender Information. In accordance with the "Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act" of 2000, which amends the Jacob Wetterling Crimes, against Children and Sexually Violent Offender Registration Act, the Jeanne Clery Act, and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, Paul D. Camp Community College provides a link to the Virginia Police Sex Offender Registry. These acts require institutions of higher education to issue a statement advising the campus community and parents of students where law enforcement information provided by a state concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained. It also requires sex offenders already required to register in a state to provide notice of each institution of higher education in that state at which the person is employed, carries a vocation or is a student. In the Commonwealth of Virginia, convicted sex offenders must register with the Sex Offender and Crimes against Minors registry maintained by the state police. It is the policy of Paul D. Camp Community College to neither admit as a student nor employ individuals found on the registry. There are provisions contained in the school policy on sexual offenders that allows the individual offender to appeal his/her rejection of enrolment.

The Sex Offender and Crimes against Minors Registry (SOR) for Violent Sex Offenders is available via Internet pursuant to Section 19.2-390.1(D), of the Code of Virginia. Registry information provided under this section shall be used for the purposes of the administration of criminal justice screening of current or prospective employees and volunteers, or otherwise for the protection of the public in general and children in particular. Unlawful use of this information for purposes of intimidating or harassing another is prohibited and willful violation shall be punishable as a Class 1 misdemeanor under Virginia code.

The Virginia State Police are responsible for maintaining this registry. Access to this information can be obtained through College Security's main office or at <https://sex-offender.vsp.virginia.gov/sor/>. Information may also be obtained from the Campus Security Force during normal business hours. The Virginia Community College System is responsible for providing names of all individuals applying for enrollment at a VCCS institution to the Virginia State police for a records check concerning the sexual offender registry.

10. Access to Campus Facilities. It is the policy of the college that during business hours, the College will be open to students, parents, employees, contractors, guests, and invitees. During non-business hours access to all College facilities is by key, if issued, or by admittance via the College Safety and Security Officer. In the case of periods of extended closing, the College will admit only those with prior written approval to any facility. Over extended breaks, the doors of all halls will be secured around the clock, and will be equipped with a lock separate from the regular key. Some facilities may have individual hours, which may vary at different times of the year. Examples are the Learning Resource Centers, in these cases, the facilities will be secured according to schedules developed by the department responsible for the facility. Emergencies may necessitate changes or alterations to any posted schedules. Areas that are revealed as problematic have security surveys conducted of them. Administrators from the Dean's Office, Buildings and Grounds, and other concerned areas review these results. These surveys examine security issues such as landscaping, locks, alarms, lighting, and communications. Additionally, during the academic year, the Directors of Buildings and Grounds, Campus Safety, meet to discuss issues of pressing concern. Normal business hours are from 7:30 am to 10:00 pm Monday through Friday. The learning Resource Commons are open from on Saturday from 10:00 am to 3:00pm and on Sunday from 9:00 am to 2:00pm. The college may also open on Saturdays to accommodate special events or classes.

11. Alcohol and Drugs. The college is cognizant of the fact that the misuse and abuse of alcohol is a pertinent health and social problem of major proportion in our society and that it interferes with the goals and objectives of any educational institution. The college does not condone the misuse or abuse of alcoholic beverages or the use of such beverages by individuals under the legal drinking age in the state of Virginia. Underage drinking or providing alcohol for underage drinkers are both crimes in Virginia and the college is obligated to report these violations to local law enforcement. Members of the college community are responsible for their decisions regarding the use of alcohol as well as behavior which occurs as a result of these decisions.

A hard copy of the college alcohol policy may be obtained from the College Safety and Security Officer.

The college strictly prohibits the illegal use, possession or distribution of any controlled substance. The use of illegal or controlled substances is not compatible with the goals of an academic community. Any student found guilty of possessing, distributing or sale of a controlled substance faces arrest, criminal penalties and/or serious college disciplinary action, which may include suspension or dismissal from the college. Individuals rendered unconscious or in the opinion of a reasonable man, are unable to function without assistance may only be transported by EMS or police personnel.

12. Security Cameras. PDCCC has installed security cameras for the protection of the college community on all campuses. These cameras are monitored by the Campus Security Force. Questions concerning policies and uses should be addressed to the College Safety and Security Officer at 569-6721 or the Operations manager at 569-6744.

13. Crime Prevention Programs. Crime prevention programs on personal safety and loss prevention are sponsored by various campus offices and groups throughout the year. Campus security personnel facilitate programs for students, parents, faculty and new employee/student orientations. A program of monthly personal safety lectures for the staff and faculty are open to students and community members at large. The college offers Rape Aggression Defense System (RAD) training through a certified vendor as a non-credit course. It is a comprehensive course that begins with awareness, prevention, risk reduction and avoidance while providing the basics of hands on defensive training. Certified RAD instructors teach the course provided.

14. Crime Victim Fund. Being the victim of crime can be an overwhelming and difficult experience. The Criminal Injuries Compensation Fund (CICF) may be able to provide relief in the form of reimbursement for medical expenses, lost wages, funeral expenses, relocation, counseling costs and other "necessary and reasonable" expenditures that you have incurred. The college security officer can provide assistance in contacting the appropriate victim's assistance office.

If you are a crime victim you are entitled to:

PAUL D. CAMP COMMUNITY COLLEGE EMERGENCY – QUICK REFERENCE GUIDE

In the Event of an Emergency

Call 911, or the appropriate security number below. Note: If you call from a campus telephone dial 9911. If you call 911 please contact Campus Security and report the incident as soon as possible.

EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE NUMBERS

FIRE – POLICE – EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES	9-911 FROM COLLEGE TELEPHONE
	911 FROM PERSONAL DEVICE
COLLEGE SAFETY AND SECURITY DIRECTOR	757-569-6721

Power Outage and Telephone Use

If an emergency occurs that causes a power outage, campus telephones may not work, use off campus or personal devices to contact security or other assistance.

Emergency Notification

PDCCC uses the following tools to notify employees, students and the public of an emergency; ROAM SECURE, (<https://www.pdc.edu/pdccc-alert/>) fire alarms, loudspeakers, email, security web page, employee voice mail and media resources.

Evacuation of Buildings In Case of Fire

If a fire alarm sounds or you are directed to evacuate by campus security, leave the building by the nearest marked exit (noted on the evacuation maps posted in classrooms, hallways) Do not use elevators. You should proceed to the nearest Emergency Assembly Area (EAA) located in parking lots away from each building. These are located adjacent to the EAA signs posted at each campus location.

Severe Weather Warnings

In the case severe weather, you will be instructed to proceed to the nearest storm shelter. Go to the nearest shelter or restroom at the time of the warning and remain there until an all clear is sounded.

Lockdown

Certain emergencies, such as a gunman on campus may cause the college to lockdown. If a lockdown alert is sounded, you must remain in an office, classroom or proceed to the nearest one if in the halls.

You should lock and barricade the door and windows. Remain quiet and out of site until police or campus security come to your location and release you. Obey all directions of police or campus security. Do not respond to fire alarms after a lockdown alert has been sounded.

Hazardous Spill

In the event of a hazardous material spill or a suspected spill, secure the area, notify security and those nearby and evacuate the area.

Bomb Threat or Suspicious Device/Package If you discover a suspicious package, do not attempt to pick it up. Do NOT sound the fire alarm, use cell phones as they may trigger an explosive device. Evacuate the area, alert other near the site and report the package to the nearest campus security officer. Should you receive a phoned-in bomb threat get as much critical information as possible, where is the device, when will it explode. Notify campus security or the local police immediately. (H:\bomb threats)

Suspicious/disruptive Person on Campus

If you have reason to believe a person on the campus or in a college facility may present a potential danger to himself or others report your concerns to either the Threat Assessment Team or Campus Security. A Silent Witness Report may be found at <https://www.pdc.edu/about/safety-security/silent-witness-report/>. If the threat is immediate call 911. It is better to err on the side of caution than to fail to report a situation that escalates and causes injury or death to an innocent individual.

Suicide Prevention

Do not keep a deadly secret if you or someone you know is contemplating suicide talk to someone. The National Suicide Prevention Hotline 1-800-273-8255 is a free 24 hour hotline available to anyone in suicidal crisis or emotional distress. Your call will be routed to the crisis center nearest you, someone will listen and many are ready to help.

Crime Reporting

Silent witness is an internet based tool that allows student, staff and faculty to anonymously report crimes, safety concerns, fire dangers and suspicious/disruptive individuals to Campus Security.

Gunman on Campus

The college may initiate a campus wide lockdown if there is sufficient warning or direct the students, staff and faculty to evacuate the buildings. It may be necessary for the protection of the college community to execute these actions simultaneously and at different locations on campus depending on the situation. If directed to evacuate as result of a gunman on campus it is essential that the college community go to a safe haven until the situation has been resolved. The designated safe havens for each of the campuses are:

- FRANKLIN CAMPUS AND REGIONAL WORKFORCE CENTER -
 - 1) Flag pole on College Drive and/or
 - 2) Administrative parking lot on Campbell Avenue
- SMITHFILED CENTER – YMCA on James Street
- HOBBS SUFFOLK CAMPUS - YMCA on Kenyon Drive

Note:

1. These statistics were compiled in cooperation with the local police department for “public property” crime. Public property for the purposes of the crime reporting is the property surrounding a college campus with accessibility to that campus. On-campus refers to incidents/crimes taking place on college property or in a college owned facility.
2. The symbol “” identifies statistics while not required by the Clery Act are included as information that presents a more complete picture of the college crime environment.
